Role Purpose

The post-holder will be integrated in a rapidly growing research environment and will have the possibility to interact with multiple leading industry and academic partners in the UK and beyond. It is expected that the post-holder will support graduate students, deliver scientific presentation of the obtained results in international conferences, and contribute to the preparation of reports and scientific journal publications. The postholder will work collaboratively and independently as part of a research team to achieve defined milestones and produce high quality research as part of a wider programme. Contributing to teaching activities is encouraged.

Main Duties and Responsibilities

Research

- To undertake a significant research and development role on AI for a time-critical application in the research project, taking responsibilities for the assigned project tasks.
- To lead in the design, implementation, testing and evaluation of the novel AI algorithms/approaches and AI pipeline to be deployed over an edge computing platform to meet the demanding requirements of the time-critical application.
- To lead the development of a demonstrator that can showcase the proof of concept of the novel research, and work autonomously to attain other project milestones.
- To contribute to the overall research programme using innovative research approaches and techniques, and provide inputs on demand for project reports and other deliverables.
- In agreement with the line manager, liaise with project collaborators to progress the research.
- To lead in writing up research findings for dissemination amongst the research team and broader international community, and develop ideas and contributions for future grants, technical outputs.
- To represent the research group by disseminating results/findings at national and international conferences and broader community.
- To contribute to high-quality research outputs as a co-author to journal articles.
- To develop and carry out a plan to extend an area of personal research, or contribute as a team member to the development of a broader programme, including contributing to the writing of research bids/grants.
- With the support of colleagues, identify opportunities to apply for fellowships and/or further project grants.
- To provide guidance to other staff and students (involved in the research programme).
